Some excellent shots from Brooke Newell and Erin Olsen. At the end of the round, since it was two of our girls tied for medalist honors, we decided to have a sudden death playoff.. The two girls played even, with some great shots under pressure, until the third hole. The deciding factor was a missed putt. The rest of the team was watching; hope that enforces the importance of practicing in pressure situations and concentrating while practicing. We have to become better putters as we move into tournament play if we are going to be successful!

Brooke and Erin have been models of consistency all year; others need to keep improving on their game to eliminate the peaks and valleys in their scores. We can't have 5-10 stroke swings in our individual scoring. Some of our players are still struggling with the mental part of their game - they have to get past that!
